Report from the New Vision Administrative Commission July 29, 2014

New Vision Presbyterian Church has started a new journey in its ministry and mission on July 13, 2014. Frank and Ann Aichinger, who have been the pastors at New Vision for six years, have accepted a call in Bristol, Tennessee. The congregation celebrated their ministry with worship and a feast after worship. Ann and Frank have been the organizing pastors and brought their many skills and much experience to the leadership of the church. The church has reached out many ways in mission. They fill about 70 backpacks a week with food for children at a nearby local elementary school. They have reached out other ways to their community. In addition, they have recently become a partner church with one of the churches in Guatemala.

In many ways, they have tried to reach out to the un-churched people in their community. They are continuing their Wednesday program of Life Tree and vacation Bible School. The congregation reached out and welcomed Iglesias Emanuel Presbiteriana, who joined with them in their journey as a new church development over a year ago. Now, New Vision is a multi-cultural church with Hispanic/Latino members. The congregations are now one. The worship included songs in English and Spanish. We hope to find a pastor, who is bilingual.

The Administrative Commission and Steering Committee are working together to find an interim pastor and to look for a future pastor. The congregation has divided up the tasks and working hard as they continue to go forward. In the near future, Dennis Stamper and Grace Boyer will be helping with worship. Dennis will be providing pastoral care. We ask for your prayers for the church as we look toward the future.

Report from the Lincolnton, First Administrative Commission July 29, 2014

Commission Members: Robert Ervin, Rev. Kevin Frederick, Paula Wallace, and Jerry Ragan (chair)

With the approval of the Committee on Ministry and the Administrative Board, the Administrative Commission has decided to reinstate original jurisdiction to Lincolnton, First upon its ordination/installation of a new Session. With the restoration of original jurisdiction, the Administrative Commission will revert to an advisory body to the new Session and will act in such a capacity for the near future.

The congregation and leadership of Lincolnton, First have worked in a diligent and committed manner to resume their leadership role in the matters involving the Lincolnton ministry. As with every other church in our Presbytery and denomination, they have many challenges to address and surmount as they attempt to strengthen and grow Christ' church. Please keep them in your thoughts and prayers.

Jerry Ragan, Chair

REPORT FROM THE Korean Presbyterian Church of Asheville Administrative Commission July 29, 2014

The Asheville Korean Presbyterian Church continues to meet faithfully for prayer (AM) and worship (PM), under the leadership of their part time minister Rev. Hee Yoon Lee (PCA). They are a group of 12, with a few visitors who come and go, and are stable spiritually and financially. They are presently discussing what to do with property, a house, which this congregation holds in trust for this presbytery and the Presbyterian Church (USA).

Respectfully submitted,
Bill Heck, chair

REPORT FROM THE First Presbyterian Church, Franklin Administrative Commission July 29, 2014

The Commission, Session and Pastor of Franklin First Presbyterian Church continue to walk together toward a healthy future. Recently the Session, with the guidance of the Commission, approved a restructuring of the way the financial activities of the church are reported. The goal of all parties was to simplify the system such that the congregation may have a clear view of the financial activities of the church. We believe that has been accomplished. A congregational gathering will be conducted in July to share the reporting system with the congregation. We all celebrate this work as among the needed steps that the church may move forward. In light of the recent discord challenges remain. The movement in membership or attendance of those who were unhappy at the church has resulted in the reduction of financial resources. This, coupled with the structural needs of the facility including roof repair, will be a challenge for the Session and Congregation to address.

On behalf of the Commission,
John P. Lindsay

Report from the Cullowhee Administrative Commission July 2014

The Campus Ministry in Cullowhee is preparing for the upcoming Fall Semester. Monthly worship, weekly meals, football tailgates, and service projects are being planned. The newly formed board is working on marketing the ministry and networking with incoming students from presbyteries across the state.

We continue to explore, dream, vision, and discern future partnerships, staffing possibilities, and other opportunities for the ministry.

Respectfully submitted,

Michael Isaacs, Chair

ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD ATTACHMENT 1

HENDERSONVILLE ADMINISTRATIVE COMMISSION MOTION TO PRESBYTERY

Motion to Presbytery:

That effective July 29, 2014 the Presbytery of Western North Carolina delegates to the current Administrative Commission for First Presbyterian Church of Hendersonville its powers of G-3.03 in relation to First Presbyterian Church of Hendersonville, together with the powers of the Chapter 6, "Church Property" of the PCUS Book of Church Order, 1982-83.* Further, that the Presbytery of Western North Carolina delegates these powers with the understanding that these powers will be exercised if the Administrative Commission in its sole discretion determines that their exercise is required to bring the process of seeking dismissal to a timely conclusion.

- [Note: Following reunion in 1983, FPC-Hendersonville elected to be governed by the provisions of Chapter 6 of The Book of Church Order, 1982-83 of the PCUS according to the provisions of G-4.0208.]

Rationale:

The reason for the request is simply that the process of negotiating a property agreement with the members seeking dismissal should not be allowed to go on until an October meeting of Presbytery. Whereas the Administrative Commission had hoped to bring the matter to Presbytery for final action at its, January meeting, again at its April meeting, and again at its July meeting, those hopes have gone unfulfilled. By giving these powers to the Administrative Commission, the Presbytery will have a way of proceeding in a reasonable time frame to bring the matter to conclusion before the October meeting of Presbytery, without the expense of a called meeting of Presbytery.

At its latest scheduled meeting on June 12, 2014 to work out a property agreement, the Administrative Commission (AC) for First Presbyterian Church of Hendersonville learned that members seeking dismissal (D members) would not be present since they had instructed their attorney to communicate that they desired to proceed by engaging a mediator. In subsequent communications from the D group, they indicated that they would make no further responses to the last proposal made by the Administrative Commission without the involvement of a mediator.

Recognizing the likely extended period of time this would add to the negotiations and remembering that it had recommended a mediator at the very beginning of the process which recommendation the D members declined, the Administrative Commission has proposed instead that the D members submit their response to its last proposal through their attorney to the attorney for the Administrative Commission. This would avoid the dynamics of a face to face negotiating session without unduly delaying the process.

What makes it urgent for the matter to be concluded is the delay both groups have endured since June 2013. The request of D members of FPC-Hendersonville to be dismissed to the Evangelical Presbyterian Church has been pending for more than a year. But of special concern to the Administrative Commission is the ecclesiastical limbo of the members desiring to continue as First Presbyterian Church of Hendersonville, PCUSA (C members). While the D members have been able to continue their church life and ministry in the existing church facility with installed ministerial leadership and a means of electing church officers, receiving new members, and participating in the life of Presbytery—none of these have been possible for the C members. Though Presbytery has been able to assist them in providing for pastoral and worship leadership from a member of the Administrative Commission, and though the C members have developed a vibrant worship life, educational ministries, presbytery contributions, and local outreach to newcomers, they are unable to receive new members, to baptize infants or new believers, to elect church officers, to send commissioners to Presbytery, to provide optimal physical space for their worship and ministry, or to seek permanent pastoral leadership. They have been patient with these severe constraints on their life and ministry for a full year. But Presbytery has both responsibility and authority to open the pathway to full congregational status for these loyal members sooner rather than later.

Delegating the requested powers to the Administrative Commission provides a vehicle for moving the matter to conclusion without having to wait until the October meeting of Presbytery for both C and D members to have closure on the process.
